STATE OF OHIO EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT COLUMBUS

Both as Governor and personally I am glad to welcome Wittenberg to Ohio Stadium today as she renews her athletic relations with Ohio State.

To the participants in this contest I wish a successful football season.

Ohio schooled and Ohio trained, these players are sure to stage a royal battle--may the best team win!

McDerby
Governor.

An Old Friend Back--

IT was back in 1893 that Wittenberg first found a place on Ohio State's football schedule. It was the fourth season that Ohio State essayed varsity football. Ohio State won, 36 to 10.

In the intervening 33 years Ohio State and Wittenberg have played 11 football games. Of these Ohio State has won eight and Wittenberg three.

What is more important just at the moment is that the game today marks the reappearance of Wittenberg on the Ohio State football schedule for the first time in 16 years.

Interest is added to today's game by the fact that Coach Ernest Godfrey, of Wittenberg, a dozen years ago was getting his football lessons as a player under Dr. Wilce. Godfrey in 1913 and 1914 was a varsity center. He also won his "O" as a guard on the basketball quintet. Today's game in part is a recognition of his successful coaching at Wittenberg.

The scores of the previous Wittenberg-Ohio State games follow:

Unquestionably

The Dispatch leads in the sports field just as it does all other classifications of newspaper enterprise. All athletic contents are "covered" by men qualified by long experience and training in their special line of work. If it is football, bowling, boxing, wrestling, tennis, polo, basketball, soccer or racing news that appeals, you will find it in tomorrow's Dispatch.

The Dispatch staff of football writers is unsurpassed. Here are the men whose opinions are to be found daily in Ohio's Greatest Home Daily—Knut Rockne, coach of Notre Dame; Tad Jones, coach of Yale; Glenn Warner, coach of Leland Stanford; Walter Eckersall, leading football critic of the West; Solt Metzger, former coach of Penn, and Davis Walsh of the International News. Add to this list of notables daily Associated Press reports and pertinent comment by Roy Grovex and the much discussed "A Scout".

In the Dispatch office the executive sports staff is one recruited for its thorough knowledge of all athletics.

Today's game is being covered by W. F. McKinnon, Sports Editor, Ralph S. Peters, John A. McKinnon and Vinson Hunter. Among high school athletes the opinions of Irven S. Schiebeck are reckoned as authoritative. Emerson Davis knows amateur sportsmen of Central Ohio better than any other writer. His contributions on semi-pro and amateur baseball in Central Ohio give the Dispatch district lead in this field. For bowling, boxing or wrestling there is "Babe" Adams and his snappy comment, or it may be that track and field activities hold your fancy. If so, W. D. Griffith will keep you well informed.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES FOR 1926

PLAYING BOUNDARIES

The ball becomes dead automatically, no further play being permitted, whenever it crosses the side line, the side line extended or the end line.

INCOMPLETE PASSES

Besides the loss of a down, a penalty of five yards is imposed this season in each instance where a team makes more than one incomplete forward pass during the same series of four downs.

SAFETY

Following a safety, the team scoring through this medium will now put the ball in play by a kick from its own 20-yard line.

CRAWLING

This term has been more clearly defined and is now interpreted as "an attempt by the runner to advance the ball after he has been downed; viz., when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground while he is in the grasp of an opponent.

PILING UP

This rule has also been clarified and now reads: "There shall be no piling up on a player after the Referee has declared the ball dead or after the player in possession of the ball has been downed and is in the grasp of an opponent."

ROUGHNESS

Rules applying to unnecessary roughness have been amplified for 1926 and so strengthened that there will be no excuse for this practice during the present season.

The Ohio Stadium

APPROXIMATELY $70,000 has been expended since last fall to make the Ohio Stadium still more perfect in its arrangements and conveniences for spectators and athletes alike. The Stadium, as it stands, represents a total investment of approximately $1,800,000, exclusive of the value of the site.

Improvements since last year include the installation of a new drainage system for the playing field, the regrading and resodding of the field for better playing conditions, the repainting of the miles of seats, installation of additional equipment in the training quarters, and permanent provision for heating, shower and electrical facilities in the Stadium.

Salient facts about the Stadium include:

Seats in lower deck, 42,000. Seats in upper deck, 21,000. Box seats, 3,100. Closest seats are 72 feet from the sidelines and the farthest seats only 231 feet.

Circumference, end to end, one-third mile.

Ground area, 10 acres.

Height of wall, 98 feet, 3 inches.
Length of structure, 754 feet. Width, 597 feet.

Built of concrete and steel.

The audience enters through 81 entrances and is handled by 12 ramps feeding 112 aisles.

It requires an operating force of more than 1,000 ushers, ticket takers, police, Boy Scouts and employes to handle a capacity crowd.

Advantages of the Ohio Stadium plan, the only one of its kind in the country, are (1) that the upper deck brings seats closer to the playing field; (2) that the open end improves ventilation; and (3) that the curved sides equalize seat values.

Architectural features include:

(1) Eighty-seven concrete and steel arches, each 13 feet wide and 56 feet high.

(2) Towers are the open end and main entrance, 109 feet high and 36 feet square.

(3) A half "doze" 86½ feet high and 70 feet in diameter.

Ohio Stadium a Football Magnet

Today's game will swell the gross attendance at Ohio State football games in Columbus since 1915 past the million mark. Up to today, the official records showed a total of 988,622 for the seasons from 1915 to 1925, inclusive. But the great bulk of that interest has come since the Stadium was opened in 1922.

Ten years ago this fall Ohio State won its first football championship in the Western Conference, but that great team played before only 38,989 spectators at home. The 1917 team, also a Big Ten Champion, drew 32,682. The third Ohio State eleven to win top honors was that of 1920 which drew a local gross attendance of 65,056.

The teams of 1919 and 1921 were near-championship teams. The former drew 36,478 spectators and the latter 69,412. The total for all five years was 242,617.

But the first year the Stadium was in use the total attendance grew to 160,427. A year later it was 148,112. In 1924 it set a new record at 193,000, and last fall was even greater at 208,628. Gross attendance for the four years in the Stadium, then, has been 708,184.

The largest attendance at a single game on Ohio Field, of hallowed memories, was 18,315 at the time of the Illinois-Ohio State game of 1921. The present record for the Stadium is that of the Illinois-Ohio State game of last fall when approximately 85,000 people overflowed the place to see "Red" Grange make his exit from the college stage.

And there were some who doubted the wisdom of building so large a Stadium!

Electrified Transcontinental Main Line of the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway

This interesting route into the oldest Park is unique in several respects—

It is the only one operating regular Park Tours in regular Park motor coaches from a main line point of any transcontinental railroad—no branch line travel.

It traverses a virgin country rivaling the Park itself in scenic beauty.

It includes a portion of the Park not heretofore included in any of the regular Park Tours.

It traverses a country of unusual historic interest closely identified with the early explorer and pioneer.

It gives a longer tour than any of the other Park Tours at no greater expense.

It enables the traveler, for the first time, to include Yellowstone Park as a side trip on a Pacific Coast tour over the only electrified transcontinental railroad.

Whether you make the Yellowstone your destination or include it as a side ride on a longer tour, use the new "GALLATIN GATEWAY" and travel over the Electrified Milwaukee Railroad.
